Application: Financial Controller

Dear hiring team,

Your posting asks for someone who can shorten the close, make the numbers easy to read and work closely with the people who run the business. That is the work I have done for the past ten years, and the part of it I enjoy most.

At Acme Corp I built the group controlling function from scratch. The month-end close took ten working days when I started; by standardising the reconciliations and automating the intercompany match we now close in five. I also replaced forty pages of monthly spreadsheets with a small set of Power BI dashboards that the board reads every month, and I present the results to the executive team myself.

Before that, at Big Bank, I owned the IFRS reporting for three Nordic subsidiaries and the yearly audit, and introduced the rolling forecast that replaced the annual budget for the retail division. Leading the finance workstream of a core-system migration taught me to keep a project on time without losing sight of the daily reporting.

I would bring the same habits to your team: a reliable calendar, numbers people trust, and plain answers to the questions sales and operations actually ask. I am happy to show examples of the dashboards and the close plan.

Thank you for considering my application. I look forward to hearing from you.

Kind regards,

Jane Doe
